From the private entrance hall, the home opens into a large formal lounge and additional dining area, that offers all the room and features of a much larger home.

The functional kitchen is well appointed and features such items as a double basin, gas cook top, double fridge space and a surprising amount of cupboard and bench space. The walk through style of the kitchen also provides practical access to the full size laundry, which in addition then provides further easy access outside to the clothes line and around to the undercover entertaining area.
